FIRE PROTECTION
AT VANDERBILT
SEEMS PROBABLE

Dickerson Run and East Liberty Will Be Embraced in Community Plan.

W. A. COSGROVE CHAIRMAN

Banker Is Delegated to Summon Committees of Three from Each of Towns to Consider Further Action; Public Meeting to Be Called.

Special to The Courier.
VANDERBILT, Dec. 6.—Strike while the iron is hot, was the sentiment of both borough council and representatives of Emory Lewis Pratt Post of the American Legion at a conference last evening to discuss the reorganization of the fire department and purchasing of a fire truck. With interest in fire protection at its height, the officials believe that they could obtain better results at present than at any other time. Everyone is clamoring for fire fighting apparatus in the town and vicinity which have been visited by fire four times during this week.

The proposed fire department will be a community affair and will embrace Vanderbilt, East Liberty and Dickerson Run. Dawson is not included but it may be before the plans materialize. The officials are to clear that they would not undertake the proposition unless they were certain that the public was interested enough to help with moral and financial aid.

W. A. Cosgrove was elected as the chairman of the movement and he will select a committee of three men from each of the three towns to meet next to lay plans for a community meeting. At the community meeting, to which every person interested in the movement and property holders will be asked to come, the proposition will be set before the public, which will determine just what action should be taken.

Just what will materialize is hard for the officials to forecast, but they figured that they were hopeful that the people would respond to the accepted plan. It is probable that a chemical fire truck will be purchased by a community subscription and the organization formed. W. J. Reed has offered a place for the fire truck. One man would be paid a monthly salary to take care of the truck.

Numerous bids have been received by council and the legion committee. Twenty-five trucks were recently purchased by Pittsburgh for $2,500 each and this type of a truck, met with the approval of the members. The date of the community meeting will be announced in The Courier.

No successor was named to Frank Patterson, a member of the council, who recently moved to Allison, but it is probable that one will be at the next session.

698 AVOIDABLE GRADE
CROSSING ACCIDENTS IN STATE IN 10 MONTHS

By United Press.
HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—Grade crossing accidents in Pennsylvania in the past 10 months took a toll of 123 lives and caused injury to 460 others. Although this represents a decrease of 27 killed and 46 injured, compared with last year, 698 of the 777 grade crossing accidents reported to the Bureau of Accidents were automobile collisions which might have been avoided.

In 139 cases automobiles ran into the sides of moving trains, 75 became stalled on tracks and 15 plunged through lowered gates.

Six hundred ninety-five automobiles, mostly taxicabs and buses, ran through gates and escaped, according to investigations made by the Public Service Commission.

Schools Aiding in Near East Relief

County Superintendent John S. Carroll of Dunbar has issued a call to teachers of Fayette county who have not done so to turn in contributions for Near East Relief. Mr. Carroll says:

"Principals and teachers who have not already done so, should forward their Near East Relief contributions to the county superintendent at an early date so that the whole amount contributed by the schools of the county may be forwarded to the Philadelphia office not later than December 15 and earlier if possible.

"If any district has not received its supply of envelopes, please notify the county superintendent at once."

James Mayfield leaves Hospital.

James Mayfield of near Dunbar, formerly of Connellsville, was discharged yesterday from the Connellsville State Hospital where he received treatment for a gunshot wound suffered when he was returning home from a hunting trip. The gun accidentally discharged.

OFFICERS INVESTIGATING SUDDEN DEATH OF WIFE OF ONLY INDIAN IN FAYETTE

Because of circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Agnes Glivier, wife of William H. Glivier, an Indian, who resides on a farm in Bullskin Township near Moore Memorial Church, which occurred about 3 o'clock this morning, the husband was held at the city lock-up pending an autopsy being held this afternoon by coroner S. A. Baltz at the funeral home of J. M. Sims, to which place the body was removed.

Coroner Baltz and County Detective Santos came here to investigate the death and asked that Glivier be held pending the autopsy. The authorities decided that he was guilty of taking his wife's life.

Mrs. Glivier doused her husband with scalding water Thursday night, it was said. They often quarreled, he admitted today. He said he thought the woman was demented, because of her sudden death following the attack on him the authorities are giving the matter thorough attention.

No charge has been preferred against Glivier.

The man is a herb doctor and has a knowledge of root remedies. Because of his familiarity with these cures there was suspicion he may have poisoned the woman.

The husband is believed to be the only full-blooded American Indian in Fayette county. He is a member of the Bush tribe of Oklahoma, having been born in Eagle Valley, in that state. In his earlier days he sold stoves and horses for the famous "Buffalo Bill" Cody for as low as 10 cents each.

Mrs. Glivier was the Indian's third wife. He met her at New Orleans, La., and nine years ago they came to Fayette, where they were married. He is 72 years old. She would have been 30 years old tomorrow. Two children were born to the union, both being boys. One is two years old, the other five months.

After their marriage they resided at Willock for about three years. They came to Bullskin township a year ago where they have been residing on a farm.

In addition to the two sons, Mrs. Glivier is also survived by three stepsons, two of whom are in France and another in this country. She also has an aunt, somewhere in New Orleans.

The funeral service will be held at the residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. E. Shannon, pastor of Moore Memorial United Brethren Church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Hill Grove Cemetery.

PRESIDENT WOULDN'T PAY 15 EXTRA FARES
TO SECURE SPECIAL CAR

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Why the President of the United States came into Chicago in an ordinary sleeping car on a regularly-scheduled train, instead of on a special train, as President usually travel, came to light in a tale related by a White House attaché, who accompanied the Executive.

The President from the first refused a special train, but was willing to take a special car, until railroad officials started dickering on the expenses, the story went.

The cost will be $99 a day for the "private" car and an additional charge of 25 cents for railroad representatives, informed the White House.

The President saw no objection to the $99 a day, but he casually inquired how many persons could be carried on a private car.

When he learned that only 10 persons could be accommodated—and 25 fares were wanted—he put his foot down.

"We'll pay no railroad 15 extra fares when the 15 extra persons can't be carried on the car paid for," he was quoted as having said.

So the President sent one of his aids to the ticket office to buy space in an ordinary sleeper, with a resultant emphasis on his recent plan for economy by saving approximately $1,700 of public money.

Elks Will Hold Annual Lodge of Sorrow on Sunday

The annual lodge of sorrow will be observed tomorrow by the Connellsville Lodge of Elks, No. 503. The service will be held at the Solson Theatre at 3 o'clock. Members of the lodge will meet at the home and march to the theatre in a body, where a section will be reserved for them.

Attorney Harry M. Irons of Pittsburgh, leader, will deliver the eulogy. A program will include vocal numbers also.

Long Home Is Robbed.

The home of Albert H. Lane, 230 Lincoln avenue, was robbed yesterday. The theft of a revolver, a silver bill and a key to the back door was reported to the police last night. An investigation is being made.

GOVERNOR WANTS 150 MILLIONS FOR NEXT BIENNIIUM

Not Too Much to Expect If State Program Is to Go Ahead, Pinchot Says.

HOW TO GET IT, PROBLEM

By S. P. Hollingsworth, United Press Staff Correspondent.
HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—The troublesome question of taxes, which haunted the 1923 session of the State Legislature, has raised its head in advance of the 1925 session forasmuch as a repetition of the nightmare of two years ago when emergency taxes were imposed under the threat of an extra session of the Legislature from Governor Pinchot.

These emergency measures were to be repeated this session and Governor Pinchot's disappointment at the yield which he expected to reach $10,000,000 was the occasion for the unprecedented letter to members five weeks in advance of the date for convening.

The Governor, it is understood here, does not wish to have his economy efforts cast up by the Assembly when it comes around to appropriations. The saving of $4,000,000 a day and the amortization of the $20,000,000 liability do not mean that after June 1 of next year there will be a "Roman holiday" for state departments with that much more to spend, according to officials familiar with his views.

Governor Pinchot has described the biennial ahead as "lean years" if the Legislature does not find more money than the $12,000,000 estimated by Auditor General Lewis. Roughly $150,000,000 he believes is not too much to expect, if the state program is to go ahead.

The past two years have been devoted to retrenchment under the Governor's plan for his administration, and he had hoped that after the $29,000,000 liability had been wiped out, there might be a resumption of the State's building program. Outside of highway construction little or no work along the line of permanent improvements has been done.

The forestry program, including purchase of forest areas and erection of forest towers has been curtailed. Improvement of the institutions, which officials regard as deplorable and a disgrace to the Commonwealth, and relocation and enlargement of the penal institutions and a host of other worthy projects have been neglected because of shortage of revenue, as claimed by the Governor.

If revenues are not available the last two years of Governor Pinchot's administration his constructive program will have to go by the boards. Such a program had been planned by the Governor following his recent triumph course during the first two years.

The attempt made by the Governor to saddle the blame for the situation confronting him upon Auditor General Lewis has already been felt as a boomerang. Many members to whom the Governor's letter was addressed believe this was a foul blow. Now they say, what might have been a calm and peaceful session is now clouded for any resumption of work.

Meanwhile the Governor's experts are probing the auditor generally, estimate of revenues for the next two years.

The situation, on the other hand, is a difficult one for the Governor to handle. With only a few weeks remaining to have his budget ready for the Legislature, he now finds the bottom has been knocked from under his plans and unless the miracle of more revenues without additional taxes is accomplished, there will be need for even greater retrenchment than was put into effect at the end of the last legislative session.

Hospital Auxiliary
Will Be Organized
Monday Afternoon

A ladies' auxiliary to the Connellsville Hospital Association will be organized at a meeting to be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Carnegie Public Library. The nominating committee will submit its report, after which officers will be elected and other business in connection with the organization will be transacted.

Every woman in Connellsville who is interested in the formation of the auxiliary is asked to attend.

Dr. C. J. Remmlinger Leaving.

ROCKWOOD, Dec. 6.—Dr. Charles J. Remmlinger, for many years one of the leading physicians at Rockwood, has sold his residence and medical practice to Dr. W. W. White, formerly of Elk City, Kan. Dr. Remmlinger expects to go to Chicago to take post graduate work and will later leave at Somerset.

Flees Millionaire Husband

MRS. DOROTHY MARTIN HILLMAN.

Mrs. Dorothy Martin Hillman, wife of Edward F. Hillman, Jr., millionaire Chicago department store owner, who fled to New York after a month of married life, has refused to return. Hillman had asked the police to find his wife but she eluded them. "I don't want his money. I earned a living before I married him. I can do it again," she is quoted as saying.

Poplar Grove Organizes Community Association to Promote General Welfare

Better Fire Protection Will Be One of the Immediate Objects.

C. B. McCORMICK HEAD

The Poplar Grove Community Club came into being at a meeting Friday evening at the public school building. Its general purpose is to promote the welfare of the community in general. Its immediate object is to secure better fire protection.

C. B. McCormick was elected president. S. M. Kuhlman, secretary and treasurer. Frank W. Jones, William C. Means and Mansfield E. Prater were named as committee to frame by-laws.

It is expected that as an early result of the organization of the association a fire company will be formed. Some time ago a fire hydrant was installed through a citizens' movement.

Poplar Grove has experienced a remarkable growth in the last two years. Within a radius of about 500 feet of the center of the village there are now 15 fine homes. More are in prospect. It is believed that with the coming of spring and revival of the prosperity that has been forecast in recent weeks there will be another building boom such as was witnessed during the last three years.

New Rockwood Pastor.

ROCKWOOD, Dec. 6.—Rev. Victor N. Miller, formerly of Nevada, Ohio, has arrived here to assume the pastorate of the Lutheran Church. He succeeds Rev. A. K. Jones, who resigned to accept a charge at Kalamazoo, Mich.

Unlabeled Plant Burns.

Fire yesterday destroyed the foundation building and the cleaning shed of the Hucks Manufacturing & Supply Company in Uniontown, causing a loss of $65,000.

WOMEN SMOKERS MUST STICK TO CIGARETTES

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 6.—Women of six cities were denied entrance in the National Order of Pipe Smokers today.

The grand lodge of the fraternal fraternity decided in August session that the fair sex should stick to their catnip-majors.

"Pipe smoking is a masculine privilege," ruled the tobacco arbiters. "Cigaretts are the fashion of the effeminate. The institution of pipe smoking must not be tampered with."

Soldier Patrolled Plant Robbed of Million in Liquor

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—One of the largest liquor robberies in the Chicago area in years, was revealed today when federal officials admitted a federal warehouse here had been looted of a million dollars' worth of choice liquors.

The robbery, which was carried out while soldiers patrolled the building, occurred last Monday officials believe. United States Marshal Robert L. Levy is directing a corps of agents searching for a gang of hijackers believed responsible. Several suspects are in custody.

Fifteen steel doors were cut down by the robber band to get the liquor. Padlocks and bolts were stripped from the doors but Levy considered this work was done as subterfuge to hide the fact there was inside assistance.

MRS. A. E. WAGONER
CALLED BY DEATH
AFTER OPERATION

Mrs. Elma E. Wagoner, 64 years old, widow of A. E. Wagoner, died this morning at 2:10 o'clock at the Connellsville State Hospital. Her illness dated back to last August and on October 27 she was admitted to the hospital, undergoing an operation on November 11. Following the operation she rallied and for eight days hopes were entertained for her recovery. Complications then developed and she gradually grew weaker, her condition having been critical for more than a week.

Mrs. Wagoner was born near Uniontown on April 21, 1860, a daughter of the late Caleb and Mary Campbell. She spent her early life near Uniontown and continued to reside there following her marriage to Mr. Wagoner, also of this community, on September 27, 1882. They moved to the West Side, Connellsville, 33 years ago. Mr. Wagoner died two years ago.

Mrs. Wagoner was one of the most widely known and highly respected women of Connellsville and also had many friends in the surrounding towns. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary societies and the King's Daughters; also of the Greenwood Pioneers Club. She is survived by one son, Paul G. Wagoner, at home; two sisters, Mrs. H. L. Pierson and Mrs. Florence R. MacDonald, both of the West Side and two brothers, John W. and Robert Campbell, both of West Newton.

The body was removed from the hospital to the family home, 1009 Crawford avenue, West Side, by funeral director J. E. Sims. The funeral service will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home, with Rev. J. L. Proudfoot, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. The remains will be taken to West Newton cemetery for burial on Tuesday afternoon, the funeral party leaving on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie train at 2:40 o'clock.

Traveler, on Foot, Hopes Baltimore Is Only 25 Miles Away

A weary traveler, with Baltimore as his destination, was in the city this morning looking for assistance from a fraternal organization of which he is a member. He wanted to know how far it was to the Maryland city.

"Is it about 25 miles?" he asked an officer.

When informed it was more than 200 miles he nearly collapsed and then decided to look up the lodge secretary here and request assistance.

Christmas Holidays
In City Schools to Begin December 18

The Christmas vacation period in the Connellsville schools will begin on Thursday, December 18. It was announced today. The final session will be held that day. That will allow one week before the holidays.

Sessions will be resumed on Monday, January 6, which allows two weeks and three days.

Salvation Army
Kettle on Street

The Salvation Army kettle made its appearance on the streets today. By this means Adjutant E. J. Parker and his assistants hope to accumulate a fund to help defray the expense of the Christmas dinner for the poor of the community.

Two Illness Cases.

Two cases of contagious diseases were reported to the Board of Health this morning. Emily Hueber, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. E. C. Hueber, is ill with scarlet fever at the Patterson street home. Harry Goldstone, six years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goldstone of Lake Patterson avenue, is ill with chicken pox.

TO BE BASIS OUR FOREIGN POLICY

President Coolidge to Make That Broad Purpose in His Administration.

DOES NOT FAVOR LEAGUE

Not Has Same Objectives to Be Attained by Means That Will Avoid Involvement in European Entanglements; Go Further Than Harding.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1924, by The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Coolidge has taken a significant step forward in developing the foreign policy of his administration. His speech before the Chicago Commercial Club makes even plainer the broad purposes outlined in the annual message sent to Congress this week, and means that the program of the United States toward Europe will no longer be dictated by Senator Hiram Johnson of California and the "irreconcilable" group.

What Mr. Coolidge has said about ending isolation and cooperating with the other nations of the world is what President Harding felt but did not express, and what Mr. Coolidge himself has believed ever since the European War introduced the European problem into American affairs. But neither Mr. Harding, nor Mr. Coolidge ventured to challenge openly the "irreconcilables."

Today the situation is different. Mr. Coolidge does not favor American acceptance of the present covenant of the League of Nations—he made that clear again in his last message—but he utters the American conception of cooperation with Europe with all the fervor expressed by the League of Nations advocates themselves. Some of his very sentences might have been spoken by the late President Wilson in declaring a policy of isolation.

Mr. Coolidge may differ with the Democrats as to what is the best formula for international cooperation. He, like Secretary Hughes, seems opposed to any rigid institution or to any definitely established rules like those in the covenant, especially because some of these are regarded as ambiguous, but the objectives of Mr. Coolidge as now expressed are the same as those of the League of Nations itself.

What has brought about this open expression of friendship for a policy of direct cooperation with Europe? Several circumstances have been responsible. One is the gradual disappearance of the "irreconcilable" group or their loss of influence with the electorate. Senator Lodge and Senator Brandegee are dead. Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois was defeated in the primaries for re-election next March. Senator Moses of New Hampshire has not been hostile to Mr. Coolidge since the latter's cause triumphed in the New Hampshire primaries. Senator Johnson of California was repeatedly defeated in the presidential primaries by Mr. Coolidge himself.

Only Senator Hoar remains and he is not likely to be able to corral enough votes to threaten any serious disaffection. But even Senator Borah favored the cult of an international economic conference when his "irreconcilable" colleagues criticized him for deviating from previous utterances. It would indeed not be surprising if the Idaho

JOHN PISULA MADE SUPERINTENDENT AT LEISENRING NO. 3

John Pisula, superintendent of the Whitney plant of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, has been transferred to Leisnering No. 3 to succeed Superintendent C. L. Patton who was assigned to other duties in connection with the company's safety program.

Mr. Pisula is succeeded at Whitney by William Quinn, who was in charge of the plant at Franger. The change is a promotion for Mr. Pisula, as Leisnering No. 3, with 550 acres, is nearly twice the size of Whitney. W. W. Merwin has been acting superintendent at No. 3.

The latest Frick plant to resume its operation today at 60 per cent of capacity. Almost daily the H. C. Frick Coke Company is meeting additional orders at plants which have been idle or which have been operating in a small way.

Mary Parkhill Ill.
Miss Mary Parkhill, teacher in the Connellsville schools, is ill of appendicitis at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Patton, on North Sixth street, West Side. Her condition was reported improved today and it is thought an operation will not be necessary.

Confined by Illness.

H. O. Kays, Ben Hooper and Miss Margaret McKim are confined to their homes by illness.

CO-OPERATION IS TO BE BASIS OUR FOREIGN POLICY

Senator, who is the new chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, were willing to go as far as Mr. Coolidge in international cooperation, subject to the very limitations described by the President. Mr. Borah has always insisted that America shall not become entangled in any interplay which restricts her freedom of action. Mr. Coolidge openly promises this, which may satisfy Mr. Borah completely.

The President has been a careful observer of the trend of sentiment in the Senate ever since the war. He knows that at no time did the League of Nations command a two-thirds vote. There never was a time when the League of Nations was being denied that a two-thirds vote could not have been obtained for the Versailles treaty with some kind of reservations. The treaty failed because of a dispute over reservations. The "irreconcilables" who did not favor the League at all were always in the minority.

Mr. Coolidge's position today is that the League covenant has not been sufficiently changed to permit of American participation through the League has so much of a pull and flavor that it will in several years before such an adjustment would even be possible. The important thing of the moment is the expression by Mr. Coolidge of the policy that most everyone outside the government circle realized was the true wish of the majority of the Senate. Namely, real cooperation with other nations. Mr. Coolidge has taken occasion after election, too, to answer some of the attacks made on his policy by John W. Davis. Mr. Coolidge gives this all-important definition of American foreign policy:

"We cannot hope indefinitely to maintain our country as a specially favored community, an island of contentment lifted above the general level of the average of the standards of humanity. I know there was a time when many among us believed this was possible, but who now can continue clinging to such a faith in view of the lesson which the war brought to us? If we could not avoid involvement in a war, whose causes were foreign and whose issues were chiefly alien to us, because we had settled them for ourselves long ago, how can we hope to avoid our full share of responsibility in connection with other world problems which, if they are ever to be solved, must be solved in an atmosphere of peace and goodwill? We must be constantly ready to help both at home and abroad where our help is desired and will be effective."

"We have been a peculiarly favored people. For that we owe a debt that is real and concrete which we cannot repudiate. It is our wish to live in a world which shall be at peace. But we can no more assure permanent and stable peace without cooperation among the nations than we could assure victory in war without allies among them. We know that the war is assured and permanent peace is slow and difficult. We know that no nation can travel that way alone. We tried and we failed. It is a way that can only be traveled in company with others equally zealous for the same goal. Among these fellows of the road there must be mutual understanding and mutual faith and confidence. It is only when these understandings have been reached and the necessary assurance of that faith and confidence have been given and received, that mankind will be ready more effectively to consider its internal problems of social and economic adjustment. I can see in the tranquility of Europe a benefit that will reach American industry and agriculture."

Nothing more explicit than the foregoing has been asked for by the majority of the banking and business element of the country. Nothing more idealistic has been sought by the "solid reservationists" in the Senate and nothing more broad and humanitarian has been urged even by the advocates of the League of Nations. Mr. Coolidge's election and the disintegration of opposition within his party has given him the feeling that he can go further than his predecessor in outlining a policy, not of isolation but of international cooperation.

Married Men Win From Bachelors

Although beaten in two games, the married men rolled up a 119 pin margin in the final game, just enough to overcome the margin established by the bachelors in the two previous games. It is believed that a record low score was established in the final game by the single men for match games when a 296 score was chalked up.

Among The Churches

CONNELLSVILLE GOSPEL MISSION—An old fashioned revival is starting at the Gospel Mission beginning Sunday evening from December 7 to 27. Various speakers will occupy the pulpit during these services. Announcements will be made later. A hearty welcome is extended to every one. All are welcomed, Miss Sophie McKinnis and Miss Violet Round, workers in charge.

CHRISTIAN—Geo. Walker Buckner, pastor. Bible school at 9:30. The three (Young People's, Senior and Intermediate) Christian Endeavor Societies meet at 6:30. It is the regular monthly conservation meeting, and the topic is, "In His Steps." What Jesus Said About Forgiveness. The Young People's leader is Catherine Storkel. Morning service at 10:40. This service is to be in charge of the Jesse M. Gray Mission Circle, which is presenting a missionary program, entitled, "Under a Dozen Skies," as follows: Scripture and prayer, Mrs. R. E. Purer, president of the Woman's Missionary Society; introductory address, Miss Joseph G. Moore, president of Circle, Africa; Mrs. O. P. Moser; China, Miss Mae Gilmore, India, Mrs. J. J. Thomas; Japan, Miss Edna Chubb; Mexico, Mrs. Joseph Moore; Jamaica, Miss Rose Marzano; Argentina, Miss Elmer Strimmel; Paraguay, Miss Annie Murray; Tibet, Miss Mary Porter; Philippine Islands, Mrs. Leland Whiskey. Offering, the offering to be devoted to the cause of missions; benediction; psalm. Evening service at 7:30, subject of the sermon, "The Grounds of the Gospel Hope."

METHODIST EPISCOPAL—J. H. Lamberton, minister. Class meeting, 8:30. Sunday school, 9:45; morning worship, 11. A short talk by the pastor, preceding Holy communion. Every member, if possible, should be present to take communion. Junior C. E. 3; Intermediate C. E. 6. Leader, Rosalie Swink. Senior C. E. 8:45, topic, "What Jesus Said About Forgiveness." Leader, Mrs. E. H. Small. In the evening at 7:30 the pastor's theme will be, "Why Are Saved People Happy?" Prayer-meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

SUMMIT METHODIST PROTESTANT—J. H. Lamberton, supply pastor—Sunday school, 2; preaching by the pastor at 3:15. Senior C. E. prayer-meeting at 7:30; regular Thursday evening prayer and praise service at 7:30. A cordial welcome to all.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN—Where Motion crosses Pittsburgh. Francis J. Scott, D. D., minister. Bible school at 9:45; morning worship at 11. The sermon will be on the subject, "The Inexplicable Jesus." He is a most wonderful Jesus. Certain things are necessary for human life. Jesus not only has these necessary things but He is them. The modernist finds fault with miracles because he thinks they hinder the acceptance of Jesus, but Jesus said His miracles were a help for faith. In the evening at 7:30 the sermon subject is "What Are You Worth?" What are you worth from a physical standpoint? How much iron is there in your body? How much calcium? How much phosphorus? You will be interested in this series of evening sermons.

TRINITY LUTHERAN, Fairview avenue—William H. Hotrick, D. D., pastor—Class in catechism, 9; Sunday school, 10; morning worship, 11; sermon, "How Jesus Would Have Us Live." Come and see. Perhaps you are living all right. Perhaps not. You should know Luther League, 6:45. "What Jesus Said About Forgiveness." Leader, Edna Carlson; evening worship, 7:30; sermon, "Your Sin Will Find You Out." Absolutely put it down. There's no escape. Prayer-meeting Wednesday, 7:30.

TRINITY EPISCOPAL, Corner Fairview avenue and Prospect street. Gilbert Good, vicar—The second Sunday in Advent. Church school, 10; evening prayer and sermon, 7:45; sermon subject, "The Difference Between Repenting and Being Sorry." Everybody welcome. Sunday afternoon the Every-Member Canvass will be conducted. Communicants of the parish are asked to cooperate by remaining at home to receive the canvassers when they call.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE—Dunn-Paine Building. Church service and Sunday school at 10:45. Subject of lesson, sermon, "God the Only Cause and Creator." Wednesday evening testimonial meeting at 8 o'clock. The reading room of this church is open week days from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Cokers Will Open Floor Season On Friday Night

German Township Will Be Initial Attraction; Redstone Township Next.

QUINTET IS SHAPING UP

After plenty of practice next week the Conneltsville High School basketball team will take the floor Friday evening in its first game. German Township High will be the opponent. The next night, Saturday, the Cokers will play Redstone Township.

The team is rounding into form now that Coach Seale is gradually reducing the number of candidates. His original squad was 72, entirely too large to work with, and including a number of boys who need further seasoning.

The early season games are to give the team an opportunity to work out and become accustomed to meeting opponents other than members of the second team. Both German and Redstone townships had fine teams last season, the latter opening against Conneltsville with a victory. The "Little Cokers" developed after that and topped the sectional championship in Section Three.

The first W. P. L. A. League game the team will play is against Uniontown at that place on a Tuesday night. The county centers open on a previous week-end with Scottdale at Scottdale.

DUNBAR TOWNSHIP LASSIES PRACTICE TWICE EACH WEEK

The Dunbar Township High School lassies held their semi-weekly practice session last evening at the school gym. More than 25 candidates reported with Coach Sarah Seal and a hard session was gone through. The girls engaged held practice each Tuesday and Friday while the boys work out every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The lassies will elect a captain for their team just prior to the first game, it was announced last evening.

Yesterday during noon period, the seniors ran roughshod over their senior class, the Sophomores. The second year lads were only able to ring up two foul shots while "stick" Sweney and his mates piled up a total of 18. The final score was 18-2.

Monday the Juniors and Sophomores will clash in the school gym.

JOHNNY POLLOCK HURLS CHALLENGE AT MACK MILLS

Johnny Pollock, well known pugilist in this county, left today for Pittsburgh where he will be in conference with "Red" Mason, one of the best known fighting managers in the Smoky City. It was developed that Mr. Mason is desirous of putting the local pug in several of his cards and wants him to come to McKeesport to make his training quarters. Before leaving, Pollock made it clear that he issues a challenge at Mack Mills, colored pugilist of this city, who was in training in the same quarters as was Pollock in this city. Mills is being trained for the rug by Billy Carter.

Pollock formerly lived at Dawson and later moved to Stewart where he has been employed for some time. Recently he gave up his work and is now confining his attention to the ring.

Pollock, it was said, was training in the same quarters with four other pugilists but for some reason or other, feeling developed and he decided to leave but before going, hurled the dart at the colored pug.

Hard Games for Monday in V-D-P-C Bowling Tourney

The intercity bowling league will be continued Monday evening when Vanderbilt will be entertained by the strong, Perryopolis contingent and Manhattan of Conneltsville will play host to Dickerson Run. The V-D-P-C tourney is set to be hard fought from indication. Vanderbilt is leading with four wins and two defeats and holds the high honors for the week. Vanderbilt with 2,008 boasts of a high total for three games, while Nicholas Cavalcante of the Young Valley team has a score of 177 for high for one game and 522 for high total for three games.

The standing of the league:

W.	L.	Pts.
Vanderbilt	4	2,008
Connellsville	3	1,600
Perryopolis	3	1,600
Dickerson Run	1	322

Sporting Notes.
The Olympic Athletic Association bowling team challenges any junior team in the county. The locals are composed of McCormick, captain, Bufano, Shelkey, Umble, Nixon and Black. For games inquire at West Penn pool room or write Frank Bufano, Jr., 606 North Pittsburg street.

Charlert and New Castle High Schools clash today in football's semi-final contest for the championship of Western Pennsylvania and the Syracuse Cup. The game will be played at Carnegie Bowl in Pittsburg. The winner will meet Braddock next Saturday for the title.

The only reminder of football in Conneltsville is the stadium movement, and it is likely that the city is due to hear more grid talk in the next several days to come.

Republic has filed an application for admittance to the County Basketball League. There will be a meeting of the organization in Uniontown on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. All managers are expected to attend the Monday session.

With Charlert High School playing today in the football semi-final, it shuts Washington High out of championship representation in that county for the first time in years. Washington High, though not always a contender for the title has been grid leader in Washington county for many seasons. Washington was eliminated this year by a defeat in the hands of Turtle Creek.

A climax of the feud between Baseball Commissioner Landis and Ben Johnson, president of the American League, is expected Monday when the major leagues meet. The convention closes on Thursday.

I. P. Petterman, automobile racer better known by the name of "Red," died yesterday in Pittsburg after an illness of a year. He was 38 years old. Petterman began his racing career on the old Uniontown speedway.

MRS. GILLESPIE ELECTED HEAD OF PRATT AUXILIARY

Ladies of Vanderbilt Legion Post Elect Liberty Run Woman as President.

OTHER NEWS OF THE DAY

Special to The Courier.
VANDERBILT, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Harry Gillespie was elected president of the ladies' auxiliary to Emory Lewis Pratt Post of the American Legion last evening at the regular monthly business meeting. Mrs. Gillespie, who resides at Liberty, succeeds Mrs. John Pratt. Other officers who were elected: Vice-president, Mrs. John Fornari; secretary, Mrs. Wray Laird; treasurer, Mrs. Lester Darricklow; chaplain, Mrs. Robert Lint; historian, Mrs. John May, sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Thomas Ambrose.

The next meeting will be held Friday evening, January 2.

A social committee composed of Mrs. Lester Darricklow, chairman; Mrs. Kate Pratt, Mrs. W. A. Reed, Mrs. Robert Burns, Mrs. Mucallin, Miss Frank French and Mrs. John Fornari served lunch.

The auxiliary may play a feature part in the local movement to have "worth-while" fire protection, according to the sentiment of the members following the meeting of council and Legion. They always take an active part in any large activities in the town.

Another Fire.
For the second time within two days, in the exact spot, in the same house and for the fourth time this week, fire broke out in the Vanderbilt district. The W. J. Rainey fire department at Paul was called out yesterday at noon to extinguish a blaze in the clothing store in the home of Mrs. Louise Shallenberger at 55 Union street. The flames were checked before they gained any headway. The damage was slight. The Rainey officials at the plant are puzzled as to the cause of the fire. A rigid investigation was conducted as it was believed to be caused by a defective fuse but it was found to be in perfect condition.

At Christian Church.
H. Glenn Carpenter, pastor of the Christian Church, announces the following services for Sunday: Bible school at 10 o'clock. At 11 o'clock public worship and communion. The sermon subject is "The Lord's Supper." Lena Baker is the reader of the Christian Endeavor meeting at 6:15 o'clock. At 7:30 o'clock, public worship. Sermon subject is "America's Supremacy and Responsibility." At this service the annual Thanksgiving program for the Dawson and Vanderbilt councils of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics will be carried out. The local lodge of Daughters of America will also be present. The Juniors are requested to meet at Junior Hall at 7 o'clock; as the lodges will march in a body to the church.

The program will include patriotic songs by the audience with selections by a male quartet. The sermon will deal with the growth of the country with the attendant responsibility.

The first meeting of those who will participate in the Christmas exercises on December 21 will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church auditorium.

S. S. Officers Meet.
Miss Moore, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Shallenberger, John Pratt, Burt Newmyer, U. G. Blair, Robert Baker, Howard McDermott, J. S. Strickler, and Roy G. E. Duhan were present at a meeting of the Sunday school officers of Dawson District No. 15 that was held Thursday evening in the Christian Church. The officers planned to visit the various Sunday schools to organize the units into stronger ones.

On Hunting Trip.
Reinold Winterhalter and Roy McLoughlin, went to their annual hunting trip to Potter county.

Snook to Bowl Here.
The Snook bowlers will be the guests of the All-Star contingent Tuesday evening at the Cavalcante Recreation Club. In the first game, the locals were beaten by 31 pins, but they will be out for revenge.

Legion Notes.
Post Commander J. E. Marelli of Emory Lewis Pratt Post was able to be about last evening after being confined to his home with a severe cold. The possibility of two Legion minstrels next year looms. The annual minstrel is surely to materialize and many persons are planning to hold another as the proceeds from the two will go towards the fire department fund.

The dates for the three postponed games in the Five Hundred League have not been decided upon. A meeting of officials from the three entries will decide the date during the next week.

At M. E. Church.
The following services at the James Cochran Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church were announced by Rev. G. E. Duhan, pastor: Sunday school at 9:45 o'clock; morning worship at 11 o'clock; sermon subject, "The Tree of Life." Following the morning service, there will be a meeting of the official board. The church will join in a union service with the Christian Church in the evening for the Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

Quarterly Conference.
District Superintendent T. H. Hicks of Pittsburg will have charge of the quarterly conference Tuesday evening at the Methodist Episcopal Church. Plans of the work for the next three months will be made.

Grange Holds Meeting.
The regular monthly business meeting of Dunbar Grange was held last evening in Junior Hall. The Grangers will install the newly elected officers at the meeting on January 2.

Dave Sheffer Moves.
David Sheffer, former merchant of this town who recently sold his business establishment to Lewis Epstein, formerly of Akron, Ohio, has moved to Pittsburg. The apartments where he had been making his home are now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Epstein and daughter.

School Board to Meet.
The school board will meet Monday evening in the regular monthly business session in the borough building. The meeting will get under way for 7:30 o'clock. The annual election of officers will take place.

Boy Scouts Meet.
Troop No. 2, Boy Scouts, met last evening in the Christian Church with Scoutmaster W. R. Baker.

Juniors to Meet.
The Junior Order of United American Mechanics will hold their regular weekly business meeting Monday evening.

C. Anderson Injured.
Clarence Anderson of Paul received an injury to his right arm yesterday when he slipped and fell under the wheel of the fire truck that he was helping to pull to the fire at the home of Mrs. Louise Shallenberger. The truck passed over his arm.

McGone Also Wined.
At the hearing of William Ketter of Dawson, who was charged with assault and battery, Justice of the Peace C. H. Arison ruled that the costs be divided between prosecutor and defendant and each was fined $6.

Nereidians Rehearse.
The Royal Nereidians Orchestra held its weekly rehearsal at the home of Dorsey Arnette last evening. Every member was present.

WHEN YOU ASK FOR CREDIT

IS THERE A MOMENT OF UNCERTAINTY?

HAVE you ever experienced a denial of credit? We hope that you have not; because it is always embarrassing and is generally attended by inconvenience.

There are some people who endure a moment of uncertainty every time that they apply for credit from some merchant with whom they have never dealt before.

They realize that they have been careless in meeting their obligations promptly; and wonder whether the merchant is aware of this.

More than likely, he is. He is probably one of the 15,000 merchants—all over the country—who exchange credit information for their own protection and for the protection of people who do not realize the value of a good credit record.

At the Theatres

The Paramount

"FAST AND FEARLESS," with Buffalo Bill, Jr., appearing in the leading role, is the feature picture today at the Paramount.

Bill is happily cast as the hero, "Lightning" Bill, and the film bubbles over with thrills and fast-moving action.

A goodly part of the story centers around the efforts of "Lightning" Bill to put the kibosh on one Pedro Gomez, a bold bad hand, and how Bill accomplishes his purpose, makes a mighty interesting yarn that palpitates with romance, adventure, intrigue and 21 carat thrills.

Monday and Tuesday "K—The Unknown," will be shown.

The Soisson

"CHRISTINE OF THE HUNGRY HEART," showing today at the Soisson, presents Florence Vidor and Olive Brook in the leading roles.

The picture is from the novel of the same title by Kathleen Norris. It is an emotional drama of a woman's desire for love, and gives the fullest opportunity for Florence Vidor, who plays the title role, to display her artistry and ability as an emotional actress.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Jane Novak and Earle Williams will be seen in "Jontons Husbands."

The Orpheum

"THE ALASKAN," on view today at the Orpheum, is a new version of Oliver Curwood's popular story.

"The Alaskan" is a tale of the new empire which has come into being in the far north during the last 30 years. It opens with the great gold rush which followed the discovery of the yellow metal in Alaska. George Holt is the pioneer but the story chiefly concerns Alan Holt, his son, a native Alaskan, played by Thomas Meighan. Monday and Tuesday Agnes Ayres will be seen in "Wordly Goods."

The Arcade

"SMILIN' THRU"—One of the greatest comedy scenes that has ever been written in a play is the opening scene between the crusty old man and the sweet temperate doctor, two life long friends, in the opening of "Smilin' Thru," the play that has been selected for production by the Ella Kramer players at the Arcade Theatre next week. It is a small part of one of the most interesting theatrical offerings that has ever been presented on an American stage.

"Smilin' Thru," in addition to being a delightful whimsical comedy, is a story of the ordinary, carried with it a big, significant lesson that will be of interest to every man, woman or child in Connelville.

Today, "The Cat and the Canary."

"Why—I suppose so, Hart." Verity hesitated, glancing uncertainly from her chauffeur to the proposed substitute. "Does he know the way?"

"Yes, he knows the way, too," Verity stopped, looking back to allow Madame Brockett to precede her into the limousine.

"Very well," she said indifferently. "Thank you, Miss. I'll be out on the train by tomorrow noon."

Both women were in the car, obviously waiting for Renshaw to follow them. He did so, after a perceptible hesitation, closing the door and taking a seat facing them. Darkness was falling, and the limousine made its way slowly through the crowded streets, stopping at the station for Renshaw's bag. Twice the new chauffeur was the object of winged rebukes from traffic policemen. He seemed not to know the traffic rules as well as he knew the car and the road. Indeed, Renshaw soon began to suspect that he did not know even those as well as his own.

Several times he hesitated at turns. Also, the gears of the car protested rancorously each time he shifted them.

Madame Brockett talked in her usual, charming way, with a new and intriguing note of friendliness, and Renshaw responded. He was conscious of an increased and growing liking for this polished product of another land. He even ceased to resent her air of mystery. Certainly she had been a thoroughbred today in the consideration she had shown him and apparently she had left her atmosphere of mystery in the safe-deposit box with her recovered treasure. Above all, he admired the tact with which she avoided all allusion to her own affairs or to his.

As he thought of these things, and talked of others, he found himself watching Verity. A new realization of her personal beauty swept over him as he watched it. Her profile was turned toward him as she stared out into the gathering night. With her eyes on him, she was the most beautiful woman he had ever known.

He thanked God that no resemblance between the two was there to remind him of the exception. He could not have endured that.

A sudden light startled him, then another. The car had lurched and recovered itself. The first snowfall of the season was beginning and very soon the heavy flakes were coming down so thickly as to blind vision.

The new chauffeur was having difficulty in keeping to the road.

Suddenly, Renshaw leaned forward and addressed the girl.

"Miss Campbell," he said crisply, "this fellow doesn't know how to drive. Do you mind if I get out and take the wheel?"

Verity looked startled. In her absorption it was clear that she had not observed the jolts of the driver's repeated hesitations at crossroads.

"Why, aren't we almost there?" she asked, vaguely looking about her.

"No; we're not much more than half way. And it's snowing hard, and the new man doesn't know the road. There are some nasty spots between here and Townsboro." Renshaw's voice grew more incisive. "I really think you'd better let me drive," he finished.

For a few seconds Verity was silent. When she spoke, her words revealed the character of her thoughts.

"Drive, by all means," she murmured. "If you would feel more comfortable."

Renshaw felt the blood rush to his head. The remark itself he accepted as an insult. Also, it reminded him of something he had forgotten. His muscles grew lax under the impulse to sit back and let the ass at the wheel ditch them all. If he had to. Then, quietly, he tapped on the window to stop the car, and when the driver obeyed the signal, he got out and raised the young man from his seat with a single and compelling gesture.

"It's so thick you can't see," he said calmly, as he took the wheel. "I know the road."

The chauffeur took the seat beside him without protest, muttering something about snow in his eyes. Renshaw drove in silence for ten minutes, then stopped abruptly beside a small wooden structure whose one lighted window shone restlessly through the storm.

"This is the Ardville station," he told the substitute. "A train for New York stops here in about half an hour."

He offered the man a bill as he spoke, but the chauffeur shook away. "Say," he muttered peevishly, "what's the idea?"

Renshaw spoke pleasantly, but his voice had hardened. "I'm sorry if you have a date with one of the maids, but the best thing you can do tonight is to get back to town. You can see the girl later."

"I'm d—d if I will," muttered the man. "What right you got to butt in? It's the lady that engaged me."

"That's true but she has just told me to take your place. Come, now. At the last two words the man started. The tone was new and menacing. "I'll give you exactly one minute to get down and away. Don't forget this. It was still holding out the bill, and at last the man took it.

"Well, all right," he said grumpily, "it's the way you feel about it. I was only trying to help out a pal."

"Very creditable of you, I'm sure, tonight."

Renshaw started the car, but his eyes were on the man. "Toodle right into the New York station," he muttered.

The man drifted languidly toward the station door. He had thrust the bill into his pocket, and he seemed annoyed but philosophic. Shut away from the drift of the conversation, though within sound of the man's voice, the two inside the limousine watched the scene.

MOUNT PLEASANT FOLKS THINK TRI STATE WILL QUIT

Surplus Wires in Many Parts of the Town Being Removed.

PARENTS VISIT SCHOOLS

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Dec. 6.—Despite assertions of the Tri-State Telephone Company that only unused equipment is being removed from the streets and alleys of the town, there is a general impression that the company is making ready to abandon service here. Lines are being taken down all over town. What results will follow the proposed sale of the Tri-State system, a petition for which has been granted by the Fayette county court, is not known. Council is considering the use of the Bell system for fire alarm purposes.

Parents in School.
Yesterday afternoon as a part of the Mount Pleasant Parent-Teacher Association work, parents with children in the First Ward schools up to the fourth grade were asked to visit the schools and remain after school for a conference with the teachers. The parents turned out in large numbers. After school most of them remained for the conference at which they were addressed by the president of the association, Mrs. W. A. Marsh.

Christmas Vacation.
The Christmas vacation in the public schools here will begin December 15 and continue until December 29.

Personal Mention.
Mrs. Emma Tinsman visited with Greensburg friends for a few days.

Table Decorations for the Christmas Feast

A very dear friend of mine has a marked ability in arranging unusual table settings for parties, for her children or for special occasions for her friends. Her formal dinners are most dignified and beautiful.

She is a great lover of silver and one finds her using it most appropriately during the holidays. A large footed Sheffield silver holder, oval in shape, with ring handles fitted with red roses she often uses as a centerpiece.

At a Christmas dinner which I attended, she placed the flowers on a lovely large Italian lace cloth, with a pair of silver and crystal centerpieces. These centerpieces have candle holders for six from which depend crystal pendants and swags. The pair she used at either end of her table and you can imagine the brilliant effect they gave when she lighted her red candles.

This table was set for eight using red and gold service plates with red glass goblets and Italian cut glass vases, that matched the cloth in design.

During the holiday vacation her high school daughter served a group of chattering bubbled high girls an informal luncheon. They were delighted with the daintiness of the setting. The entire service included bread and butter plates was very much like Wedgewood in creamy color and were edged with a band of green. These were placed on lace mats with a low footed glass of a clear jade green color to decorate each place.

At each end of the table stood a tall crystal bud vase containing a single poinsettia. In the center of the table a centerpiece was a wreath of holly and pine branches was a round sweet meat box with nested china compartments filled with the most delicious sweets, nuts and preserves. The girls fully appreciated this.

My friend gave a children's party for her grammar school youngsters and their friends. There was a squeal of delight when the door opened to their play room and they beheld "their party."

It had been a grand secret about the house for a week just what mother was going to have for them. And here it was before their eyes.

Of course they saw the ice cream first. But such funny ice cream. Sitting on a red plate was an ice cream man built along the bulbous lines of a snow man, with black candy dots for features and buttons and crowned with a green gum-drop hat. So fascinating were the solemn men that the children almost forgot the complete array of the table. Mother had provided low green mugs with handles; there were four short candlesticks of bright green pottery each holding a very elevated and slender red candle.

New delights awaited their eyes when they looked up from the demolished ice cream man and beheld a pointed Christmas tree made of gum drops at each place while in the center mother had provided a cotton snow slide on an elevation of books. Little red and green gum drop children raced joyously down the slide on little wooden sleds and out upon an oval table mirror giving the effect of an ice pond with a border of salt representing snow banks.

CHRISTMAS GIVING THROUGH THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

A pleasant aspect of present day Christmas activities is that presented by the gift giving by children through the public schools. This activity seems to have started spontaneously in many places so that no one city or community can claim to be its originator. Wherever it originated, this gift giving is fast becoming an admirable part of public school life. Methods of managing this activity are so similar that a description of the plans of a single school practically describes those of all schools.

Preparations for this holiday giving commonly begin two or three weeks before Christmas. Notice of this beginning is made by teachers. Committees consisting of children, teachers and parents are appointed. Sometimes a group of the mothers of children in one room are given charge of the plans and activities of that room. Again teachers and children make and carry out their own plans.

The names of needy children or of whole families are sometimes obtained through personal knowledge, but in the larger cities these generally come from the lists of welfare organizations and public spirited newspapers.

Actual conditions in each case are ascertained through personal visits made by members of the Christmas committees. Preparations to suit the needs of these individuals are then carefully made. Does the committee find that a certain little girl most earnestly desires a woolly dog? The committee secures that dog. Does an undernourished little boy need special food? The committee provides that food. So on through the lists. That which is really wanted by the poor children is provided whenever possible. Very generally nothing is not given at Christmas. Thanksgiving time and later usually see such needs supplied. Christmas gifts, save in special cases, consist of food and toys.

How the gifts pour in as the time for giving comes nearer! Tables in the corners of the school rooms are piled high with packages, touchers are besieged with questions and advice; money comes in for last minute needs, and finally, a few days before the schools close for the holidays, gifts and names are carefully checked up, cash counted, and all contributions, information and much earnest advice are put into the hands of those who do the actual distributing.

This last is really the hardest task of all. Members of the committee, whether children or grown ups, would naturally prefer to be about their own plans and enjoyments, but the spirit of the time prevails. Baskets of good food, toys obtainable in no other way, and more than all, something of brotherly kindness are put into the lives of parents and children living in homes to which otherwise little Christmas would come.

LICKETY-SNIP The Christmas Sprite

Susie Belle chuckled softly. George demanded to know what she was laughing at. "Look! Look! Isn't that perfectly cunning—be's coming this way!" Susie slapped her hands. George looked round, and saw a most adorable elf dancing toward them. He was a shining pair of scissors. His quaint suit of holly green was decorated with tiny pine cones, and his perky cap of cherry red, set against one eye, was crowned with a bunch of holly berries. "Who are you, sir?" asked George. "I'm Lickety Snip, the Christmas Sprite," and with this the elf turned a quick handspring off his stool, caught the scissors by the handles, and clashed the blades right merrily. "And this old boy," said he howling low, "is my good steed, Two Blades, the fastest and most cutting of all the scissors in Santa's shop!" Two Blades acknowledged the introduction by rearing on his handles and falling with a mighty thump! George and Susie Belle stood hand in hand watching this fascinating exhibition. "We're very pleased to meet you," they chorused. "Can you do any other tricks?" "Indeed we can," said Lickety Snip proudly. "You should see us with Brown Paper. We can cut around it in circles—and scallops too, for that matter." Susie Belle advanced timidly, clapping her fat little dimpled hands. "I don't suppose," she said, "you could really cut out a paper doll, could you?" "A paper doll," said George. "Isn't such a much. I'd rather see him cut out a kite—I would." A dark cloud floated overhead, descending lower and lower until the little sprite suddenly jumped up and caught one end of it. "Here's Brown Paper," he cried. "Now I'll make you a note so you can climb through and watch us, for the paper cloud had fallen down all over them. Two Blades cut a hole through quickly and then cut the sweetest little set of steps you ever saw for George and Susie Belle to climb up. George helped his sister, and then came Lickety Snip and last of all Two Blades. "Ladies first!" cried the elf. "We're off!" And up and down dashed Two Blades and Lickety Snip directing him, going into funny little corners and finally ending a grand snap. "Oh! Oh!" cried Susie Belle. "It's the most beautiful Paper Doll, and it's as big as me. I never did have such a nice big Paper Doll." George helped her fold the big doll carefully so as she could sit down beside them and watch, for Two Blades was already clashing his blades with impatience ready to be off on the next exciting excursion. "Now, for St. George and the Dragon!" shouted Lickety Snip, and off he dashed again with his trusty steed. It was almost impossible to follow, so swiftly did the strange pair dash about, into and out of corners cutting around in all sorts of swift little twists and turns. "What will it be, do you suppose?" asked Susie Belle. George didn't know, but in a minute back came Lickety Snip and Two Blades. "There, isn't he a beauty," cried the elf, and he held up a wonderful kite in the shape of a dragon. "Is he really mine?" "Can we keep them for good?" cried George and Susie Belle together. "Indeed you may!" answered Lickety Snip. And away he raced on his flashing steed until he became a tiny green speck in the distance. George sat up on one elbow, and blinked at the winter sunshine streaming across his bed. "Why, it's Christmas! Oh Susie!" Susie rubbed her eyes and sat up in her little white bed. "It was such a nice green elf," she said, "and Two Blades was so bright and shiny." "I know," George chuckled. "We had a horse like that. Merry Christmas, Susie, let's hurry and look at our stockings!" Do your Christmas shopping early

An Old Fashioned Christmas Program

A simple fireplace arrangement will make a pleasant and suitable background for the Christmas program. The selections to be read or acted, group themselves naturally about the hearth. Children love to dress up, and may do so for the singing of the carols, as well as for the acting.

The Christmas carols suggested are old favorites. Others may be substituted or added where the teacher finds it advisable. The program will be briefly as follows:

1. Christmas Music. "It came upon the midnight clear."

2. Selection from "Snow-White" by Whittier.

3. From "A Christmas Carol" by Dickens, the scene, "Bob Cratchit's Christmas."

4. "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

5. Christmas Music. Holy Night, Silent Night.

Costumes for the Christmas music can be similar to those used for the Dickens sketch. The first verse of the old hymn "It came upon the midnight clear" is as follows:

It came upon the midnight clear,
That glorious song of old,
The angels bending near the earth
To hear the angels sing.

Other Christmas songs may be added here or instrumental music. "Snow-White" a Winter Idyl by John Greenleaf Whittier, should be appropriately announced. Two small pages or 10-15 might do this or on the members of the cast might come before the curtain and give the title.

The copy of Snow-White at hand shows an excellent picture of the first scene in Whittier's home which would assist in constructing the stage setting already suggested.

Of course the poem is too long to be given in full. It would need to be cut. The boys would probably like the first parts and the girls could take up the part starting with "Shut in from all the world without,

We sat the dawn-winged herald
About."

Different actions for the group are suggested in the lines

"We sped the time with stories old,
Wrought puzzles out and riddles told."

Or stammered from our school book lore," etc.

The aunt and uncle could be given but perhaps not in full, and the master of the district school.

Another guest could be omitted to advantage and the poem taken up at this point.

"At last the great logs crackling low Sent out a dull and duller glow."

and finish with the description of the Doctor.

If any slight changes are necessary for the stage, instrumental music could come next, before the youthful pages announce "A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens. Stage Three

A reader for the descriptive parts will be necessary and he can sit at one side of the stage in front of the curtain. For it would never do to omit. Then up rose Mrs. Cratchit, Bob Cratchit's wife, dressed out but poorly in a tattered gown but brave in ribbons which are cheap and make a gaudy show or a x-pence etc.

The first action will be shown in pantomime while the reader gives the first long paragraph. Mrs. Cratchit's first line starts. What has ever got you precious to her then?

The dialogue continues in a lively manner until the reader takes up the tale with Bob's voice was tremulous as he told them this and confuses with the Christmas dinner the actors performing in pantomime.

The dialogue starts again with "A Merry Christmas to us all, my dears God bless us."

The parts of Scrooge and the Spirit seem necessary to the story and can be acted by two children or read by the reader. A last paragraph seems to close the pretty little episode nicely with "Scrooge had his eye upon them and especially on Tiny Tim until the last."

The next selection on the program can be omitted especially if in the school room giving this program, this old favorite has been done to death. If it hasn't been given for some time a very small child might try it and win his share of applause.

More music might be added to the last part of the program. The song suggested, Holy Night Silent Night, would be a happy finish in a sort of benediction leaving a pleasant and yet reverent thought to carry away home.

A Yuletide House Party

Christmas arriving as it does this year on Thursday a house party might well be arranged to start Wednesday morning with the arrival of the guests. Since no Christmas would be complete now without Good Fellow work being included the very first suggestion would be to plan to distribute one's baskets that afternoon.

The children will enjoy their Christmas ever so much more for having planned a happy Christmas for other kiddies.

After lunch the hostess might let the children help her arrange the baskets—each family in the party providing one. Dainty ribbons, colored tissue paper and greeting cards will assist in making the recipients feel that they are not forgotten at Christmas time.

After those entrusted with the delivery of the baskets have returned, and dinner has been disposed of—then will come the important event of the Christmas tree.

Some families prefer to give their presents from the tree others prefer the pleasant illusion of allowing Santa to fill stockings to be enjoyed Christmas morning. It might be arranged to give each of the group a small present, especially an amusing one from the tree Christmas Eve. Then stockings must be hung in place and be for an early sleep for the youngsters will certainly rise early in the morning.

Christmas morning will arrive with shouts of glee as pajamas fly for the stockings and the fat stockings. The grown-ups will enjoy the revel too and all will be more than busy till breakfast.

Perhaps a bit reluctantly the kiddies will lay aside their new toys and treasures to get ready for church. But think how nice it will be to come back to them later!

Christmas dinner is always a very special event. The afternoon will need no planning for after such a hearty meal there will be naps for the little folks and quite possibly some of the grown-ups will want to slip away for a little rest. The older children will be busy rehearsing for their tableaux in the evening.

An impromptu play could be arranged instead of the tableaux if the spirit so moves. In any case the more spontaneous and informally consumed the more fun it will be for all.

Very light refreshments will be plenty after the bounteous dinner and then will come the evening's performance. If a play is given it will probably fill the entire evening. If a tableau then dancing can follow with cakes and fruit punch for a pleasant interlude.

Since Saturday night will be the grand ball—a cotillion a happy occupation for the youngsters will be the making of favors.

Friday if that kind of a day may offer outdoor diversions—skating, sleighing and coasting. But if the weather be stormy, and the culture group be compelled to stay in, the cotillion favors can be made by the kiddies and card tables supplied for the grown-ups. An impromptu concert would be enjoyable for Friday evening. Of course, all the Christmas music that can be found, must be brought out and the evening should be completed with the singing of Christmas carols.

Saturday morning might lend itself to outdoor sport—or perhaps the afternoon. But either way time must be reserved for the decoration of the ball room for the dance.

It can be easily imagined that dinner Saturday evening will be a sketchy affair with the roughs of most of the group on the combi ball. Such an exodus to dress after dinner! Lustrous corridors will be flying flurries in limousines making wild dashes for opposite rooms.

Presently the hostess will emerge to be ready to receive the guests arriving for the evening festivities. Music will be heard and the house will be a scene of merriment. The favors for the cotillion having all been made at home will receive more than their usual share of appreciation. It is hoped that a pleasant evening will be had by all.

Sunday morning will find folks rather sleepy but refreshed with some hot coffee and toast they will make the short 11 a.m. sure to attend church as usual.

After Sunday dinner will arrive that regrettable hour the departure. But happy memories at least will linger in thought for many days perhaps years, pretty pictures and incidents of their joyous Christmas house party.

Santa Claus and the Pioneer

It was necessary for Santa Claus to watch his step in those days—something less than one hundred years ago—when he was making his first visits to the children of the pioneers shut up in the wilderness cabins of our northern states. Only reluctantly did suspicion give way to welcome. Those grave men and women of the pathfinder race were slow to admit that Santa's garments did not smell too strongly of incense and that his jolly red face was not a mask hiding more sinister features. But the children welcomed him. No doubt the fears and warnings of the grown ups added one more pleasant thrill to those whispered tales of that strange night traveler who drove reindeers instead of oxen, and carried a pack from which he distributed enchanting gifts to those boys and girls whose high standard of conduct made them worthy objects of his benevolence. Standards were high in those days and it is recorded that sometimes there was little besides a stout switch to greet young vagabonds on Christmas morning.

Thought flies away from such a painful scene and prays to picture a cabin, before Christmas, dimly lighted by the flames on the hearth, children sound asleep in trundle beds and mother and father working quickly and quietly at their homelike tasks and gifts. Doubtless in most cases the picture would not be complete without the appropriate presence of grandfather, grandmother, or maiden aunt, busy at a pointer handcraft, but not too busy to reprove the wilfulness of such ways with curiously applied texts and the dimly remembered warnings of still earlier days.

Very little money was spent on Christmas gifts. Careful calculation was required in order to stretch the family income so it would include parties for a few weeks on the crude racks of the day and also perhaps the coarsest blacksmith for shaping iron runners to fit wooden sleds and skates made by father at home. Mothers did not require such aid

When the poke-berries and the walnuts and all the other forest materials for making dyes were ready, who had thought ahead to Christmas time and prepared gay yarns which later she knitted into scarves, wristlets and mittens. These same dyes put roses into the cheeks of the rag dolls and furnished gay coats and trousers for the chimney jumping-jacks. The last seemed to have been favorite toys. Besides these there were dolls' tea-sets made of acorn cups, fern-leaf saucers and tiny plates whose bodies were shaped of wood and wire. Indian crafts were adapted to meet the pioneers' needs. Dried hedgehog quills made gay strings of beads, wild turkey feathers formed juvenile war bonnets, and the hands that made clumsy jumping-jacks and skates showed marvelous skill in shaping small bows and arrows for the use of, maybe, some future hunter of fame. And the year been unusually prosperous, these before Christmas preparations included the purchase of crockery mugs or high days and holidays, but which at other times stood on shelves well out of reach of youthful hands.

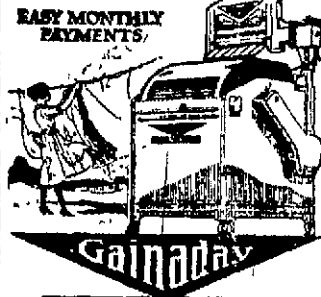

As may be guessed, other compromises with conscience were also made. We are told that now and then grandfather who had quoted texts and scolded every step in the preparations took possession when it came to the actual time of giving, and in the fullest possible dress of an Indian chief, distributed the gifts with Indian form. Perhaps he thought that thereby the malign influence of Santa Claus would be neutralized by the native spirit of the woods.

A few of these things have come down to us out of that time. Here and there in an old American home, now and then behind the glass cases of museums we can see them. Especially do we find specimens of the drinking cup. The pottery is coarse, the shapes are not elegant and the coloring is crude indeed. For example, one shows a blue man driving a blue yoke of oxen hitched to a blue plow, and the owner is admonished by a blue motto from the Book of Proverbs to "Go to the ant," etc. There were families in which gift giving was approved, but to whom even such gifts as have been mentioned were impossible. All the pioneers were poor but poorest of all were those messengers of civilization, the pioneer preachers. In one such family the mother found it possible to give her only son nothing but an apple. This apple was procured only with much effort, but it always came, was polished till it shone, and came soon to stand to the son for all the mother would have liked to give. When times became easier and other gifts were made, the son continued to prize most highly the red apple the mother never forgot. Then came the year when the mother had passed beyond such gift giving. The first Christmas eve after this event the young man, a country preacher in his turn, spent the night in a pioneer home just rolled of its first baby. At dawn the young preacher left for his own home, depressed with his own grief and that of his friends. He felt a special sense of loss because for the first time within his memory he would have no red apple. The cold wind blew, the snow made the trail heavy and the bare branches cracked their loneliness message. Suddenly at a turn in the path, lying beside a huge log that crossed his road, this young man saw a big red apple, just such an apple as his mother, always gave. And there was no explanation. The presence of that apple in that spot was never explained. When that young preacher became an old man, he spoke of the event with awe. As the years went on he found that something else had been given him besides his mother's apple. He found he had been given the certainty of love's enduring quality that transcended him all his days.

Behanna & Work

Bell 1848. 717 State St. 117 W. Apple St., Connellsville, Pa.

One hears so much of the personal touch—and among the gift suggestions for this year, the personal touch is more than ever emphasized. Even the powder-puffs and the tiny bells for millady's dresses have been transformed into persons of great charm and delicacy.

The use of dolls in gift making has become so general that one may buy several sizes, from the larger ones with wire skirts, to act as telephone shields and lamps, to the very tiniest Dutch head to fasten to the handle of a powder puff.

Among the larger dolls are those of the French variety used as cushion tops, spreading their ruffled and voluminous skirts over the cushion itself. Then there are the slouchy and wicked-looking French acrobats made on wire and stuffed with cotton, who can twine their legs, muffler fashion about their necks with no effort whatever. Their ability in this direction far exceeds that of mere human beings.

A doll of millady to call her maid is a pretty conceit especially when its demure head wears a lace bonnet and its skirts are gay ribbons all gathered and ruffled and edged with black lace.

Powder puffs, too, come in for special attention. A Dutch lady with a sweet cap had all her skirts flounced with accented blue ribbon—with tiny threads of silver running through them. Underneath was concealed the smallest of powder puffs. Similar in general design was a dainty Miss designed for the baby. Narrow white lace of pink ribbon made her pretty skirts, while her merry face painted on white silk peered out from a cunning lace bonnet tied beneath her chin. Another pretty gift to a baby was a white silk puff, to hold sachet. Cotton filled with sweet fragrance filled the funny little kitten, whose face was painted the body ended in a long, slim tail of still bound by heavy silk thread.

And speaking of kittens, these favorite toys of the tiniest person, one will find kittens of all kinds among the stamped—ready-to-be-embroidered sets. Children can make many of these, and rabbits, too. The designs are simple and easy to execute, and not too difficult for small fingers.

An older girl might enjoy making a pretty lady of crepe paper on a half pint mayonnaise jar. Any small glass jar with a screw-up lid will do. She will need a small spoon of copious wire, some fresh clean cotton and some crepe paper in dainty colors. Lavender and green are pretty together. A pink dress, with green and lavender ribbons has its charm, too.

For the may make a cotton body cover it with white crepe, and wire this lady to the lid of the jar. A round head can be fixed from the body and the extension of the two run round with cotton and covered with white, too.

Points will be needed for the face and the hair is made of the cotton sewel in place. Now to dress the lady. First the girl must gather a strip of crepe paper and wire it in the jar itself. This is in undecorated. The lady then has made for her an that the lady herself may be unwound from the top of the jar. Tiny ribbons of the crepe paper will make pretty decorations for the dress which should be kept in the general period of the hoop-skirted eighteenth century. The completed result may be used either as a candy jar, or as a container for tiny guest-powder-puffs.

A more elaborate piece of work requiring more materials and time, too, will be the composition of an entire dresser set in black satin edged with gold lace. If one did not care for the face, narrow pink and lavender ribbon could be substituted for the edging.

Two cardboard trays would be usable, one for pins and the other for the nail things—the buffer, nail file, etc. A covering of tulle over the inside lining of satin is practical if one cares to go to that expense. The dress is the same for all the dresser appointments. A case is made for it of wire will make arms. These the tulle powder can of the satin and a round box is covered for face powder. There are decorated with flat bouquets of silk flowers, printed with ribbons. The hand mirror, too, rejoices in its flat bouquet, as does the back of the hair brush. The bath and edging, further decorate the comb. A fat round pin cushion will ruffled edges may be added to this set, if desired, or a pair of scent bottles to lend their quaint charm.

It is suggested that an old dresser might be completely renewed by this decorative treatment. In case one was fond of the old set, and wished to keep it in use. The general effect is very handsome and will be sure to please the recipient.
